Valley City, North Dakota

Unique to the typically flat lands of North Dakota is the mile wide 300 foot deep glacial meltwater trench called the Sheyenne River Valley. Found only an hour west of North Dakota's largest city (Fargo) on I-94, it is a short trek to Valley City to take in the beauty of a natural river valley and enjoy the history and beauty of the region. The Sheyenne River Valley National Scenic Byway, a 63 mile drive, showcases the area with 28 interpretive panels. You can explore the history, geography, geology, nature and take in the stories of the Norwegian immigrants that developed the valley.

Begin in Valley City at the Rosebud Visitor Center and view the one of a kind 1881 Northern Pacific Super-

Sodbuster Days. You can experience farming with horse drawn equipment. North of the byway, travel to Cooperstown to visit Oscar Zero, a cold war missile site. Go down into the missile intendent's railcar. Specialty shops sprinkle Valley City and you can enjoy the City of Bridges tour. Fort Ransom, a village south on the byway, hosts silos and see how our military lived during those dramatic times. Come and enjoy the beauty and hospitality of eastern North Dakota!

Welcome to our little corner of Big Sky Country!

The Glendive Chamber of Commerce & Agriculture welcomes you to our little corner of Big Sky Country! Glendive, a thriving community that still offers that small-town hospitality, is tucked between the Yellowstone River and the Badlands. Come see the part of Montana that offers a much different landscape than the Western part of this beautiful state.

We are the proud home of Makoshika State Park which is Montana's largest state park with just over 11,000 acres of primitive terrain and is home to many dinosaur fossils. We welcome you to walk the same trails once roamed by the mighty dinosaurs. Bring your camera to capture the wildlife that call this oasis home such as eagles, turkey, vultures and deer. Once your hike in the park is over, head over to the historic Bell Street Bridge. No longer open to motorized traffic, this is a wonderful way to view the infamous Yellowstone River by strolling at your own pace across this ¼ mile bridge.

If you'd like to learn more about Glendive's history, take a trip in time at the Frontier Gateway Museum. They boast items from clothing to farm equipment to photos from eras gone by. If that doesn't take you far enough back into time, visit one of the area's dinosaur museums. Ever wonder what a 38-foot Tyrannosaurus Rex looks like? Well, here's your chance! Visit the Makoshika Dinosaur Museum and be amazed by the giant that once roamed the earth. Next stop should be the Glendive Dinosaur and Fossil Museum, the largest of its kind, where you will find many full size dinosaur and fossils exhibited and ready to be enjoyed by all!

If you want to get a glimpse of what farm life is all about, you've come to the right place! Glendive is considered the agricultural hub of Eastern Montana and Western North Dakota! Head down any country road and see the farms & ranches that Eastern Montana is known for.

For more information on the area, please stop in and visit us at the Glendive Chamber of Commerce & Agriculture and we will be more than happy to help make your visit here as enjoyable as possible! Enjoy your time in Glendive...where good people are surrounded by badlands!

Why Canyon Lake?

I've heard it said a number of times that it's all about location, location, location. Being centrally located an hour's drive between San Antonio and Austin, TX. Canyon Lake is certainly no exception to this statement with all its natural beauty, historic places and unique people. In the summer with the Guadalupe River flowing in and out of Canyon Lake, this area has always been known as the Water Recreation Capital of Texas. But now this area is also being known as a year round destination for good reason.

In the fall, the brilliantly reds, gold's and orange colors inspire the artist in everyone with a palette of colors that even the Catskills, the Great Smoky Mountains, and the Ozarks would envy. Now, imagine yourself in a small sailboat on a blue/ green water lake with a pleasantly cool breeze covering your body as your eyes take in the color of the surrounding Hill Country with the lone Bald Eagle circling above. Just as easily, you could find yourself in some waders in the middle of the Guadalupe River testing your fly rod skills against the rainbow trout waiting just below the surface.

Spring time at Canyon Lake is another season of color with many species of wildflower. Texas bluebonnets, Engelmann's daisy and Indian paintbrush along with other early bloomers give way to the later blooming but equally brilliant Mealy blue sage, Plains black-foot daisy, Coreopsis, Indian blanket, Mexican hat, just to name a few. This is a time of year when the dust is wiped from camera and video equipment and the family vehicle is readied for a road trip to capture the color of these spring season.

The summer months at Canyon Lake bring a different appeal. This season lends itself high energy activities such as swimming, diving, snorkeling, water skiing, wake boarding and tubing. If you'd rather slow things down a bit then seek the services of one of the many river outfitters to tube the Guadalupe. With 23 boat ramps, two marinas, bed & breakfasts and plenty of camping parks, you should be able to find a spot and activity that scratches your outdoor recreation itch.

The Guadalupe River and Canyon Lake, at least in my opinion, is a crown jewel of the Texas Hill Country. It's a place that brings a sense of peace and well being to visitors. It's a place where memories are made with family and friends. It's a place to observe, develop and enhance an appreciation of nature. It's a place where strangers can become friends and friends become family. We encourage you to give Canyon Lake a visit so that you can experience what many already know and love.

Albuquerque, New Mexico

From its birthplace in historic Old Town in 1706, Albuquerque has grown from small pueblos and Spanish farms to one of the Southwest's premier metropolitan centers. Albuquerque is New Mexico's largest city with just over 750,000 residents. Built on the diversity of Spanish culture and Native American tradition, Albuquerque is home to world class cultural events, unique attractions, a vibrant heritage, 16 museums, shopping, outdoor recreation, spectacular hot air ballooning, and championship golf courses.

Experience New Mexico's rich cultural history as you hike among the ancient cliff dwellings and petroglyphs to learn about the lifestyles and beliefs found in the area's earliest civilizations. Albuquerque is the gateway to Pueblo Indian culture. Learn about the state's 19 Indian pueblos at the Indian Pueblo Cultural Center. Indian dances, artist demonstrations and bread baking take place at the Indian Pueblo Cultural Center every weekend. Experience living cultural traditions on a guided tour of Acoma Pueblo just 45 minutes west of Albuquerque.

Albuquerque is a four-season destination with 310 days of sunshine per year. This provides visitors with endless possibilities for outdoor activities under a clear blue sky. A hot-air balloon ride in the "hot air balloon capital of the world" is unlike any other experience; balloon rides are offered throughout the year. Get a bird's eye view of the Rio Grande Valley by riding the Sandia Peak Aerial Tramway from 6,500 feet to more than 10,000 feet. Once at the top, hit the trails for hiking and exploring. Take in a view of more than 11,000 square miles on a clear day.

The climate and high desert landscape are ideal for hiking, biking and golfing. Set out for a hike along one of many trails winding through the Cibola National Forest on Sandia Peak or challenge yourself with a ride on a mountain bike over the rugged terrain. Road biking is also abundant in the area with numerous trails linking throughout the city. Combine the mile-high elevation and varied landscape of central New Mexico with warm sun, low humidity and very affordable green fees, and you have a fantastic golf destination. With more than 15 golf courses in the metro area, golfers of every skill level will enjoy a picturesque round of golf in Albuquerque.

For the authentic New Mexican experience, be sure to sample some chile. New Mexico's state question, "Red or Green?" refers to the type of chile you prefer. Add some spice into your life and order "Christmas style" and you'll get both red and green chile on your plate. Albuquerque offers a variety of dining options from a quaint and casual atmosphere to an elegant fine dining ambiance.

Take a piece of New Mexico home with you – an authentic art piece that is. Albuquerque offers an array of Southwestern art from hand-made pottery and jewelry to tin work, paintings and rugs.

Veterans Memorial Museum - Chehalis, WA

"They Shall Not Be Forgotten"

The Veterans Memorial Museum, located in Chehalis, WA, began in 1997 at a storefront in Chehallis, WA. From this humble beginning through perseverance and the help of membership moneys and donations, they were able to open their new facility in 2005. This facility, featuring a 9,000 square foot main gallery, 85 display cases and hundreds of displays honoring our veterans, is visible from Interstate 5 just off Exit 77.

The museum also features a military history reference library with thousands of volumes. There is also a gift shop and a "USO" where you can enjoy a cup of coffee and converse with local veterans.

Many veterans returning from war bury emotions deep inside their minds and hearts and do not learn how to reconcile with them until 20 to 50 years later. Unfortunately some never are able to come to grips with these emotions. One of the major goals of the Veterans Memorial Museum is to sponsor events such as these to help the HEALING process begin.

Desert War Veterans Day

On June 25th they will be honoring the veterans of the Desert War. The guest speaker will be a Global War on Terrorism Purple Heart recipient.

Civil War Battle and Remembrance

On the July weekend of the 23th-24th they will continue their recognition of the Sesquicentennial of the American Civil War. They will be having another large battle and encampment not far from the Museum. These are really exciting events as you watch the battle unfold, learn about life in the 1860's from the living historians and learn about the featured battle.

Vietnam Veterans Day

On the August 6th the Veterans Memorial Museum will continue its recognition of the veterans of the Vietnam War. The guest speaker for this year's event will be a USAF Air Force Cross recipient.

Visit the Veterans Memorial Museum

The museum is open year round Tuesday-Saturday from 10AM to 5PM, and from June 1st through Labor Day in September, it is also open on Sundays from 1PM to 5PM.

All of the museum's programs are intended to HONOR those who serve or have served our country. The freedom our citizens and our County currently have is a direct result of the millions of American servicemen and women who have served their country in peace and war!

Welcome To Ontario, Oregon

Ontario is nestled on the lush banks of the Snake River and is proud to be the first Oregon city you encounter when traveling west from the Idaho border. Once you enter the uniquely rugged landscape of the Treasure Valley, you will come to understand why many people never want to leave. Those who choose to live here understand the meaning and importance of a quality, family oriented lifestyle. Thus, the community reflects the energy, distinction, and diversity of the surrounding geography.

Ontario is the kind of laid-back town you dream about when you want to get away from the hectic schedule of a busy, big city lifestyle. It is a town where you will find the people are genuine, authentic, friendly, and down to earth. It is a town with a fascinating history, rich traditions, and a diverse population.

Ontario is known for its wonderful annual Winter Wonderland Christmas Parade - the largest Christmas Parade in our region. It is held on the first Saturday of December, although the weather may be cold, the people of Ontario are warm and friendly. We invite you to join us to watch the wonderful Christmas Parade and enjoy the mix of local entries of floats, marching bands, dignitaries and of course the big guy himself Santa Clause!

Ontario is a city full of things to do, places to see, and four distinct and beautiful seasons, so anytime you choose to visit will be the perfect time. Visit us on our web site at www.ontariochamber.com

There are 2.5 million acres of forest, seven wilderness areas, six rivers, 157 lakes, and 1600 miles of trails and the unique landscape of the Newberry National Volcanic Monument. How to Become a Beacon of Positivity and Change

Kimber L Russell

As a manager, one must understand who they are, what they represent, how they fit in with the culture of their community and company, as well as what motivates them. In return, we must challenge those who follow us to learn, embrace, and act upon the roads of development that led us to knowing what our purpose is in life personally and professionally. As a leader and manager there must be a collaboration and connection within a team. Being able to guide and develop individuals personally and professionally allows for deep relationships that yield efficiency, dedication, honesty, and growth.

Managers and leaders must acknowledge that the world is ever-changing and that we all have something to learn each and every day. Diversity and inclusion is what make relationships work; however, the foundation of leadership and work relationships stem from the acknowledgement that we are purposeful, that we are worthwhile, and that we value one another. These foundations are then fostered and grown by the giving and receiving of new skills, abilities, knowledge, and problem solving tendencies.

Actionable items that lead to finding out who your employees are and what drives them can be completed in five easy and efficient steps.

One- Have each team member complete a bucket list. In an open and comfortable environment, allow them to share. This allows management as well as employees to embrace similarities and differences of activities and relations to personality types.

Two- Promote work/life balance by encouraging team members to check items off of the list.

Three- Lead by example and get out in the world, check off some items, and make a difference.

Four- Don't let the passion die. Revisit the list every few months and add to it. Share with those closest to you to ensure that you are growing both personally and professionally.

Five- Forget the excuses, forget the what-ifs, and forget what doesn't help us grow. Hindrance is the worst enemy in creating and implementing change.

As a manager it is essential for one to lead by example.

By implementing the five actionable items listed above and choosing to be present and engaged, managers promote a positive attitude while inside and outside the office. Not only does an employee need to rely on the strength of the manager but they also need to rely on the power of the manager's positivity and attitude.

"If I don't do it, someone else will." This simple phrase will always keep the manager and employee in the frame of mind that no one is irreplaceable and ninety-eight percent of change and productivity stems from a positive attitude. Attitudes are contagious; ensure that, as the manager or team leader, you are spreading an attitude that will do "good" and increase productivity, culture, cohesiveness, and trust.
